

Roosevelt Takes Easy Victory In Georgia Primary

Judge Howard's Attempt Secure Garner Votes Proves Futile

ATLANTA, March 24.—(P)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's overwhelming lead in yesterday's democratic presidential preference primary in Georgia leaped higher and higher today as additional returns gave the New York governor an impressive majority in 156 counties of the 159 in the state reporting. The last remaining county in the doubtful list, in which Judge G. H. Howard of Atlanta held a slight lead in returns early last night, swung definitely into the Roosevelt column today. Howard, who campaigned in behalf of Speaker John N. Garner, got 82 votes in today's returns to 117 for Roosevelt.

Roosevelt leaders said there was no question but the remaining three counties would go overwhelmingly for the New Yorker, thus assuring him an unanimous vote in the state democratic convention here April 6 when Georgia's 28 delegates to the national democratic convention will be instructed to support Roosevelt.

The popular vote for Roosevelt was 55,818 and for Howard, 15,618. Every county in the state, and all of the 410 units in the state convention apparently were assured for Roosevelt.

ATLANTA, March 24.—(P)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt won Georgia's 28 convention votes in yesterday's democratic presidential preference primary by an overwhelming margin. Judge G. H. Howard of Atlanta, who advocated the candidacy of Speaker John N. Garner.

The New York executive had a popular plurality of approximately ten to one on the latest tabulation and 398 of the possible 410 county unit votes had been placed in his column with five counties missing. Judge Howard was leading only in Catoosa county and newspaper correspondents there said complete returns would give the county to Roosevelt.

Latest returns gave Roosevelt 51,071 votes to Howard's 15,617. He captures Catoosa county's two unit votes and wins in the five missing counties as his supporters have predicted. He will score a grand slam with 410 county unit votes and have the unanimous approval of the state convention.

Georgia was the first southern state to hold a preference primary. It is the adopted state of Governor Roosevelt who visits Warm Springs regularly for his health. The state nominates its democratic candidates on an unusual system. Each of the 159 counties has twice as many votes in the state convention as it has representatives in the lower house of the state legislature. Four counties with a total of 410 county unit votes did not hold elections, but the votes automatically go in the winner's column.

The winner names county delegates to the state convention which selects representatives to the national convention. The state convention will meet here April 6 and will send Roosevelt delegates to the national convention in Chicago. Judge Howard was leading in the belief his candidacy would be favorably received by the people and his election would benefit the country immediately. He declared the nation was looking for a leader of the Jackson, Roosevelt or Wilson type, that it wanted a leader with a program and the brains and backbone to carry the nation and that Garner in temperament, leadership and in statesmanship filled every "requirement of the hour." He criticized the Hoover administration.

Official Rules On Hoover Delegates

BISMARCK, N. D., March 24.—(P)—James Morris, state attorney general, in an informal ruling today, said he believed nine of the 11 North Dakota delegates to the republican national convention elected in the March 15 primary are bound to President Hoover. United States Senator Lynn J. Frazier (R., N. D.), in a statement at Washington Saturday had asserted this state's republican delegates must support J. I. France of Maryland, who won the presidential preference vote in the primary. Senator Frazier said the result of preference vote was mandatory on all the delegates. Attorney General Morris, commenting today on the Frazier statement, said he saw nothing in the preference law that would in any way bind the Hoover delegates to France.

Shipbuilding

"The efforts put forth in the rehabilitation of the American merchant marine have proved beneficial to the country at large. During the past two years, as compared with the pre-war decade, the proportion of our foreign trade carried by ships under the American flag, has substantially increased. It has notably grown in trades where no American flag services previously were provided.

"At no time since the glorious American clipper ship era has the nation displayed such a keen interest in its ship activities. The determination of the American people to possess a first-class merchant marine has resulted in the establishment of a network of regular and dependable ocean service to all the principal ports of the world where our flag is again a familiar sight—a symbol of friendship and good will in the development and expansion of international trade.

"With the return of more normal trade conditions, American business men will find it possible to ship and to travel with unprecedented speed and accuracy, under the American flag, to all the important markets of the world."

Waggoner Jockey Is Killed In Auto Crash Companion Is Injured

DALLAS, Mar. 24.—(P)—Pete Dyer, jockey for the Waggoner Stables at Arlington Downs, was killed and his companion, Miss Estelle McFall, was injured seriously last night when the automobile in which they were riding overturned on the Fort Worth pike near Dalworth.

Passing motorists removed the 20-year-old jockey and Miss McFall from the wreckage and rushed them to a Dallas hospital but Dyer was dead when they arrived. The extent of Miss McFall's injuries had not been determined.

The coup was en route to Dallas when the accident occurred. Miss McFall was unable to assign a cause for it.

Dyer's body will be forwarded to Pittsburg, Kas., for burial.

Odd Fellows Home Board Reorganized At State Meeting

Ross Harris, superintendent of the I. O. O. F. Home, has returned from the Grand Lodge meeting at Waco, and states that the meeting was an exceptionally profitable one.

The Home board was reorganized with F. M. Compton as chairman; W. R. Francis, vice chairman; J. K. Eachee, treasurer; (re-elected); L. L. Lindsey, secretary; (re-elected); C. P. Masters and J. O. Ward.

The Rebekahs voted to install talking picture equipment at the I. O. O. F. Home here and the work will be done immediately, Mr. Harris said.

Between 75 and 100 members of the order called at the Home here Wednesday on their return from the Grand Lodge meeting.

Zack Miller

(Continued from page 1.) close. Without turning to look, Sullivan bolted from the house as an explosion resounded at his back. Wilson said Miller shot up to the floor. None of the shot struck the attorney, however. Wilson hurriedly left the house, too, leaving Miller in possession. The doors were slammed and a few minutes later Harold Mead, Kew county sheriff, said he approached the house and was greeted by Colonel Miller peering over a window blind poked through a window.

Mead said he was ordered to leave at once. A cordon of deputies was thrown around the "White House" but no effort was made to invade it. Instead, Bruce Potter, Kew county attorney, called the home on the telephone. He said Miller refused to talk to him, but indicated he might communicate later with W. E. Rice, Ponca City attorney.

The ill fortune of the Miller brothers, Zack, Joe and George, whose father founded the 101 Ranch, struck again today as personal properties of the ranch went on the auction block. Everything, from flamboyant saddles to 50-head herd of buffalo was offered for sale by Receiver Fred C. Clarke.

The 110,000 acres of the ranch lands already have virtually passed from control of Col. Zack Miller, sole survivor of the trio of brothers.

Further hearing in the foreclosure suit of the John Hancock Insurance Company against Colonel Miller and the ranch trust was scheduled in district court at New York today. The colonel and Mrs. Margaret Eblevina Miller, his divorced wife, claim the "White House" ranch home, as a homestead exemption.

Many Applications Dismissed in Hearing Galveston Wednesday

GALVESTON, March 24.—(P)—Hearing on the application of W. B. Allison of Rosenberg to operate trucks in the vicinity of Richmond, Fort Bend county, occupied this morning's session of the state railroad commission's hearing on truck permits.

Applications of 63 persons for permits to operate as contract carriers were dismissed Wednesday when they failed to make appearance. A number of other applications were set for hearing at Houston April 4.

DIES OF POISONING

ENNIS, March 24.—W. R. "Sneaky" Holder, 21, former star fullback on the Ennis high school football team, died today of poisoning. His parents said he had been in ill health recently. Holder was graduated from Ennis high school in 1930 after playing four years on the grid team.

Woman Held For Ransom Note to Partner Says

LINCOLN, Neb., March 24.—(P)—Miss Laurel Morrison, 30, Aurora, Neb., beauty parlor operator, was missing today police expressed belief she has been kidnapped for $1,000 ransom.

A letter demanding that amount was received at Aurora yesterday by Miss Morrison's partner in business but while neither its contents nor the address on the envelope was in the missing woman's handwriting, the writer explained the substance was "dictated" by another individual.

Following receipt of the message, which was mailed at Lincoln yesterday afternoon and instructed that the money be mailed to Miss Morrison in care of the Lincoln general delivery, authorities instituted search for the woman under direction of Sheriff J. J. Mohr at the request of her father, Robert Morrison, wealthy Central City farmer.

Police were stationed at the postoffice here to apprehend anyone trying to claim a letter addressed to Miss Morrison.

TWO CARS STOLEN HERE RECOVERED POLICE REPORTED

Recovery of another automobile stolen recently was announced at the Corsicana police headquarters Thursday when it became known that the car stolen from Horace Johnston Saturday night at his home at 1918 West Third avenue had been recovered by Dallas city officers. Recovery of an automobile stolen on March 12 was reported Wednesday. Neither car theft had been made known by the police until they had been recovered.

City Officer Griffin arrested a negro Wednesday on a shoplifting charge, and he was later transferred to the county authorities on a charge of theft under $5. He is alleged to have taken six pairs of men's hose from the K. Wolens Department Store.

Night Patrolman Allen York reported Wednesday night that evidence of a theft had been made to enter Brown's High School Pharmacy. He discovered the screen door at the rear of the building partly removed.

Lindbergh

(Continued From Page 1.) the search quickly mounted far beyond the sum of the $50,000 ransom demand said to have been made.

New Jersey and New York police pressed their search yesterday for Harry Fleischler, former member of Detroit's "Purple gang." They have a "tip" he has been hiding with a gunman from Manhattan's East Side. Detectives, it was disclosed, raided houses in Green Point, Long Island, on information the gangsters were living there, but the raids came to nothing.

Where authorities continued to run against blank walls. The ladder used by the kidnappers was brought here again from Trenton. Police explained they wanted to compare it with wood found on an old farm about four miles from the Lindbergh estate.

KILLED BY AUTO

ARP, Mar. 24.—(P)—Clarence R. Hobson, oil field worker, was killed last night when an automobile struck him as he walked down a highway near Arp with a woman companion. His body was hurled about 50 feet. The driver of the car did not stop. Relatives living in Wilson, Okla., were notified.

One Man Missing As Explosion Wrecks Oil Barge Thursday

NEW ORLEANS, March 24.—(P)—Elmore McKinley of Tampa, Fla., was missing after an explosion today aboard the oil barge Lube-well, owned by the Sabine Towing company, while tied up at St. Rose on the Mississippi river 18 miles above New Orleans.

The barge sank after two explosions in quick succession had wrecked the vessel and shattered window panes over a mile area. All members of the crew, except McKinley, jumped into the river and either swam to safety or were rescued by boats. McKinley was believed drowned but his body had not been located hours after the mishap. He joined the crew at Tampa on the last inward voyage. He was known only as "Max" by members of the crew and his full name was not learned until near noon.

Fire from the barge spread to the docks of Cities Service company but the fire was extinguished without serious damage. Gas fumes exploded in the tanks while they were being cleaned.

MRS. HILL WINS TITLE SOUTHERN PINES, N. C., Mar. 24.—(P)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, won the women's mid-south golf tournament today with a score of 159 for the 36-hole medal play event.

Murder Charge

(Continued from page 1.) district attorney, not to talk about it. Brooks has been assisting the Texas senate committee investigating alleged violations of fee laws by officers. It was learned that the committee had been discussing the Reeves case over a period of several days.

Claude Teer, chairman of the board of control, said he attended a meeting of the senate committee that investigated Reeves' death.

"They asked me not to discuss the matter on the outside," Teer said.

R. R. Patterson, superintendent of the home, said his record showed Reeves died June 22. He said he was "very feeble" and that word came to him June 20 that he had refused to take nourishment. He said he wrote the old soldier's daughter at Odessa and advised her of her father's condition.

He said Reeves' body was sent to Streetman in Navarro county for burial.

WATCHMAN NO-BILLED

LEADERS OF THREE STATES WILL MEET AUSTIN TALK OIL KANSAS AND OKLAHOMA ASK TEXAS RENEW ASSURANCE "KEEP BRAKES ON"

AUSTIN, March 24.—(P)—Thurman Hill of Topeka, Kan., public lands commissioner of Kansas, arrived here today to attend a tri-state oil conference in which representatives of Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma were invited to participate.

W. H. Cooley of Bakersfield, Calif., chairman of the Oil State's advisory committee, was expected during the day. Hill said Cooley would represent Oklahoma in the conference, that state's member, C. W. Murray, cousin of Governor William H. Murray, having been detained in Washington.

Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas, Texas member of the tri-state oil advisory committee, was expected to attend, Hill said. The allowable committee will hold a session tomorrow prior to the main conference, he stated.

Texas had not accepted the proposal for the conference with enthusiasm and it had not been determined what part the Texas railroad commission, administrator of the conservation laws in the state, would take in the meeting.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, said that group would be represented. Terrell was out of his office today. Governor R. S. Sterling was in the city.

Hill said he did not expect to enter in any kind of an agreement or compact, but that this state was looking to give some kind of assurance that it would continue to "keep the brakes on."

Hill said Kansas was seeking to increase its allowable to 130,000 barrels. At a previous conference of the states, an agreement was reached setting Kansas' allowable at 110,000 barrels, Texas 902,000 barrels and Oklahoma 454,000 barrels, Hill said. That compact expired with the end of last year, he said.

SENATE STARTED WORK THURSDAY ON DEMOCRATIC TARIFF SEEKING TO RESTORE POWERS FOR TAXING TO CONGRESS ITSELF

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—(P)—The senate began work today on the democratic tariff bill passed by the house with an argument by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, that its enactment would go far to stabilize tariff legislation hereafter.

Harrison, who is leading the drive for the measure transferring from the president to congress the right to pass on rate changes recommended by the tariff commission, was confident of senate approval.

The same proposition was advanced by the senate condition of democrats and republican independents during consideration of the Smoot-Hawley act. A presidential veto is ahead, however.

"We are seeking simply," Harrison told the senate, "to restore to congress the power given it by the fathers of the country to lay taxes upon the people. In approving the flexible tariff provision in 1922 it was the intention of congress that it be temporary only."

"I have the conviction that regulation will do more to stabilize tariff legislation than anything else we can do."

Committee Approval. WASHINGTON, March 24.—(P)—The house expenditures committee today tentatively approved the Cochran bill to consolidate all personal activities affecting the 1,200,000 civilian government employees.

The measure Chairman Cochran asserted, would save $1,000,000 to the first year while consolidation is being effected, and increasing amounts thereafter.

Tax Bill

and bag containers of fruits and vegetables.

It refused to exempt containers for fruits and vegetables, including cans, turpentine and resin and all electric power.

These decisions were reached in quick succession as the house approached a vote on another amendment by the ways and means committee to exclude from the tax all foods, medicines, clothing, farm implements, insecticides and malt syrup used in bread making.

Crisis in House On Taxation Measures

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(P)—The crisis of the raging controversy over new taxation was imminent as the house reassembled today to vote on rejecting the general sales tax proposal of the billion dollar revenue bill.

The onrush of the rebellious factions, which four times have bowed over the bi-partisan leadership since work on the bill began, was unrelenting. The faithful who have stuck by the bill faced the issue with stubborn determination, hoping that in the maneuvers preceding the decision they would swing into line a number of the border-line objectors.

First to be settled was the proposal of the ways and means committee, sponsoring the bill, exempt all foodstuffs and clothing, medicines and other necessities. Another plan in line for vote was that of Representative Ramseyer (R., Ia.) to write in the bill authority for the president to suspend the sales tax upon the return of commodities to normal.

On such changes as these the leadership staked its chances of success. But Representative Laguardia (R., N. Y.), who has been in the van of the anti-sales taxers, destroyed part of the effect obtained by the exemption offer when he pointed out that that container, cloth, leather and other products entering into the finished article were subjected to tax so that the bill's burden on poor purchasers of necessities still would be there.

COST OF BRINGING OIL TO SURFACE IS OF VITAL INTEREST

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 24.—(P)—The costs of bringing oil from under ground sands to the surface are becoming of more vital interest to the industry than ever before, L. P. Garrett of Houston, Texas, president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, told delegates assembled here at the opening session of the three-day annual convention today.

Garrett's remarks, in the nature of an outline of the association's work during the past year, extended a brief discussion of current problems of the oil industry and the responsibility falling upon geologists.

During the last 15 years, it has been the association's function to aid in production of oil, he declared. "As the oil industry has grown, additional demands have been made on us by the industry. The value of oil properties is coming to depend more on the economical production of oil over a period of time than upon the potential production."

He indicated that although the industry still is interested in pool potentials, there is an increasing interest in methods of obtaining a steady flow over an extended period at the most economical lifting cost.

LABOR GAINS POINT AS PRESIDENT SIGNS "YELLOW DOG" BILL

UNRESTRICTED USE OF INJUNCTIONS IN LABOR DISPUTES OUTLAWED

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(P)—Without comment, President Hoover has signed and made law the Norris-LaGuardia bill to limit use of injunctions against labor and to outlaw the "yellow dog" contracts by which workers are prevented from organizing.

His action, taken late yesterday, was based on recommendation of Attorney General Mitchell, a recommendation accompanied by doubts as to the real effects of the act. Mitchell's views were set forth in a letter which Mr. Hoover made public.

Long sought by organized labor, the new law embodies a recognition, as national policy, of labor's right to bargain collectively. It grants the right of defendants in contempt actions growing out of labor cases to have them tried by jury and before another judge. It specifically protects the press by extending this contempt provision to editors who criticize judges.

Mitchell's letter said the courts alone will be able to construe finally many provisions of the act, but he did not believe justified much of the criticism directed at the bill which he said was based on extreme interpretations.

Racketeering and extortion, he felt confident, would not succeed in cloaking themselves as labor organizations to obtain the bill's protection from summary judicial action. Likewise violent interference with workers or threats of violence and intimidation would not be permitted by this act, in Mitchell's view.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—(P)—Senator Norris maintained in a statement today that President Hoover was "in reality" opposed to the anti-injunction bill which he signed yesterday.

The Nebraska senate author of the bill, said the statement by Attorney General Mitchell casting doubt on the constitutionality of the law "does not add much credit to the great office he holds" and would be used by corporations to invalidate the act.

On the house side of the capitol, meanwhile, Representative LaGuardia—sponsor of the new law there—in a statement attributed "inexcusable ignorance" of the bill to the attorney general.

Both statements were caused by the letter Mitchell wrote to President Hoover before the executive signed the measure restricting the use of injunction in labor disputes and outlawing "yellow dog" contracts.

In the letter Mitchell said certain portions of the new law had

LaGuardia said "the fact that the president signed the bill would indicate that he didn't think much of the attorney general's opinion." Norris commented on being glad at the president signed the bill "notwithstanding the fact that by giving out the attorney general's statement he does so with apologies."

secretary's meeting and the "birthday banquet" of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

Mr. Holder is opposing C. V. Terrell's reelection as railroad commissioner and is himself a candidate for the office.

"I will formally open my campaign for railroad commissioner at my boyhood home of Whitney (Hill county) on April 15. Pat M. Neff, a strong friend of mine, has arranged to introduce me," said the Texas solon, when asked if he had started his active campaign. He said that he expected to be back in Corsicana and Navarro county in about 30 days for some intensive campaigning.

While in Corsicana, Mr. Holder distributed some of his campaign literature attacking the administration of the present railroad commissioner.

A COUNSEL OF PERFECTION.

A bulletin just issued by the National Safety Council is headed by the question "What are the qualifications of a safe automobile driver?" In answering the question it sets forth an even score of qualities which to the casual reader would appear to be a counsel of perfection. In fact we feel no risk in making the assertion that there is not a single driver in the world who measures up to the qualifications.

One of the all-embracing requirements is that a driver should be "possessed of all his senses." Two essential senses in a driver are hearing and seeing, and yet recent investigations have proved that these are frequently deficient in applicants for license to operate a car. Another quality emphasized by the National Safety Council is: "All traffic rules of states, cities and towns through which the car is operated should be observed." A sound injunction, but difficult to follow if a man has any other business requiring attention.

However, it is a good axiom which the council coins: "Accidents do not happen—they are caused," and there are certainly too many of them which are avoidable.

BACK SEAT DRIVING

The "back-seat driver" has been the subject of many jokes, but S. Edward Gable, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, insists that this type is not a laughing matter. In his opinion, the adage that "two heads are better than one," is undependable in this motor age, when one clear head behind the wheel is far better than two or more trying to control the car from points of disadvantage in the rear or other seats.

Most automobile operators who have experienced this sort of thing will agree that the back-seat driver "comes in for censure and a word of admonition." The admonition Mr. Gable bestows is:

"If passengers do not feel at ease riding in a car without giving instruction and making suggestions regarding its operation, they should stay at home or use some other means of conveyance in which their suggestions and instructions, if uttered at all, can do no harm."

Yet back-seat driving was upheld last October by the West Virginia supreme court in awarding damages to a passenger for injuries suffered in an automobile accident. The court held that, although the driver of an automobile owes to his guest "reasonable care for his safety," the guest "must exercise reasonable care for his own safety, and when he knows that the driver is not taking proper precautions it becomes the duty of the guest to remonstrate."

Maybe so. But when such a necessity arises, it would be better for all concerned if the "guest" would get out and walk.

The country's hoarded wealth, according to the Hoover committee, amounts to a billion and a quarter. Won't somebody come through with this 25 cents and keep the thing in round numbers?

Had that Hawaiian hail storm come several years sooner it might have checked the ukulele source before it got out of control.

Pennsylvania unemployed are keeping the home fires burning with telephone poles broken by a storm. It's an ill wind.

JUST FOLKS

THE WAY OF MAN

Time was he vowed he'd die for her;
Climb mountains gaunt and high for her;
Devotion to express,
Around the world he'd fly for her,
Devotion to express,
But now he shakes his head at her,
Because she wants a dress.

"Have mercy on me, please!" he cries,
"Does money grow on trees?" he sighs,
And when her bills he sees, he'll rise
To call them most absurd.
Still if she bade him die for her,
Or round the wide world fly for her,
Or scale some mountain high for her,
He'd try to keep his word.
The promises once made to her,
The compliments he paid to her,
May seem worn out and frayed to her.

Those death defying tasks
Which years ago he vowed to do,
And begged to be allowed to do,
And said that he'd be proud to do,
Are risks she never asks.

Strange man who at her beck
Would gladly risk his neck and all,
But asked to write a check, though small,
For hats and coats and beads,
Instead of new attire for her,
Prefers to go through fire for her,
And prove his deep desire for her.

LABOR'S FIGHT FOR BEER.

What is described as organized labor's first shot in a concerted campaign for modification of prohibition was fired at a rally in Kansas City devoted to demands for 2.75 per cent beer. Matthew Woll, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and Clarence Darrow were among the speakers heard by an audience of 5000 persons in the Kansas City convention hall. Labor organizations were urged to demand modification of the Volstead act both to strengthen the national economic structure and "to put down hypocrisy and bigotry in America."

There is nothing new about the voicing of such appeals by labor leaders and sympathizers. But if their efforts to obtain legalized beer is henceforth to be directed through an organized campaign, such a movement in a presidential campaign year may be utilized by the wets of both parties as an additional argument for the insertion of wet plants in the national platforms.

WHAT WE DIE OF.

We die, says Dr. Charles R. Stockard of Cornell University, of our "weak spots." This is no doubt a commonplace of medicine, and perhaps generally recognized. The inherited or acquired debility of a vital organ or the degenerate tissue that invites disease contrives to make an end of us.

What is perhaps not so generally recognized is that the weak spot may be in our minds as well as in our bodies—though Dr. Stockard does not fail to see it. In his book, "The Physical Basis of Personality," a closely reasoned examination of general animal characteristics, he summarizes the idea of constitutional predisposition in a paragraph, and ends it as follows:

"The susceptible and less fit individuals that formerly died of the one-time prevalent infectious diseases are now in the absence of such diseases killed by automobiles and other modern devices. The less well adjusted persons are unable to negotiate the traffic and run miscalculated chances or are willing to risk their lives with reckless or incapable drivers. Their constitutional defects handicap their behavior."

From this he concludes that "the onslaught of environment has somewhat changed its base of action toward the higher nervous centers." This, simply paraphrased, amounts to saying that the weak head as well as the weak heart is the symbol of our undoing.

How is it possible to decide the precise amount of intellectual diversion to which the individual can be subjected unless the brow rating is known in advance? The old problem still awaits solution.

While there are claimed to be more than five Democrats in the state of Maine, this happens to be the number that have entered the race for governor.

ONE PLACE TO ECONOMIZE

Secretary Arthur M. Hyde, of the United States department of agriculture, takes counsel with a conference concerning terminating the corn borer patrol activities. That will appeal to most people, including farmers, as a sensible government economy.

Attempts to control the corn borer have cost the government upwards of $20,000,000, and but recently an authoritative estimate was made that the total damage done by the corn borer in the five states most seriously affected in 1930 was but $190,000. Now of course, any pest that can do that much damage deserves attention, but the fact is pretty well established that cordons of special Federal officers stopping automobiles on the public highways didn't do much to discourage the corn borer. He traveled on even while the tourists were bothered to stop.

In these times when the federal government is so sorely pressed for revenues and worried over balancing its budget, pruning the item for the corn borer quarantine looks like good business.

SECRET BORROWING.

There should be a law against a husband borrowing without the knowledge of his wife, and similar restrictions should be put on the women folk, thinks the manager of a loan association.

Well, now, how about that? Some of the most wonderful surprises of married life are sprung because one member of the team drives up in a new car, or because there is a fine gold watch on the Christmas tree.

On the other side of the slate, there is many and many a heartache because a man is found to have borrowed so deeply that the wealth he is supposed to have accumulated simply isn't there when his affairs are settled.

The making of a loan for a secret purpose without the knowledge of one's life partner, generally bespeaks distrust. And domestic discord over financial matters can have no more fertile breeding soil. The best way after all, is for married people truly to live as one. That's what they get married for.

The threat of British pacifists to walk between the Shanghai firing lines did not impress us as heroism. Judging from the war dispatches that is the safest place in the Far East.

A JAPANESE PUPPET

The difference between Caesar and Pi-Yu is that Caesar thrice refused the kingly crown, while Pu-Yi refused it only twice and then accepted it. He intended to accept from the beginning, but according to an old Chinese custom, the Manchu emperors are expected to pretend reluctance to accept the honor.

Pu-Yi is now the head of that part of Manchuria under Japanese domination. A noncommittal title but the title does not matter. He will be like the old Merovingian rois faineants, the kings who did nothing while the mayor of the palace ruled in their names. He is a Japanese puppet who will be maintained in comfort in his "palace" while Japanese agents do the ruling.

THE AVERAGE

Once more an educator has risen to demand consideration for the mental fate of the great army of human beings ranking between the high and the low brows.

Those people, it appears, while not content with the usual radio diet and the movies, are not sufficiently "advanced" to be able to enjoy the subtler pleasures of the highbrows, such as reading their poems aloud to each other, or thanking their own high culture that they do not sell bonds, or supporting some new movement which has discovered in the casual scribbles and scratchings on the walls of telephone booths a new and higher form of art.

The class-conscious educator is concerned primarily with the food on which these potential Caesars ought to feed. Americans, having read so much about psychological tests and ratings, and about the effects of internal secretions on personality and of certain foods on brain power, must be disappointed to see that no sliding scale has been offered to measure the exact height of the individual brow so as to ascertain just where its possessor fits into the social order.

The Arctic region, where the nights are six months long, is probably where good mosquitoes go when they die.

A psychologist says colleges must furnish the student with more than learning. Judging from some of their products they furnish anything but learning.

Lie: A conception seven parts imagination and three parts yellow streak.

Feminine philosophy—more house, more dust.

A FEW WORDS ARE ENOUGH.

Since the Jackson Day Dinner some one in Boston has counted the number of different words used by Governor Roosevelt and former Governor Smith in their speeches. Mr. Smith made a speech 6000 words long, but he used a vocabulary of only 750 words. Mr. Roosevelt used 675 different words in a speech 3000 words long.

This, of course, does not mean that these are all the words that the gentlemen know. It does mean that a small vocabulary is large enough for a political speech. A laborer, however, is said to know not more than 600 words in all and finds them enough for his needs. A college graduate is supposed to know 6000 words at the outside, but it is not likely that he uses more than a tenth of them. Shakespeare, however, used about 16,000 different words in his plays and poems. No one knows how many more words he had at his command, but found unnecessary to convey his meaning.

It took 84 different words to write the 175 words in the preceding two paragraphs.

AUDITORS REPORT SHERIFF'S OFFICE OWES DALLAS MUCH

DALLAS, March 22.—(P)—Auditors reported today that the sheriff's office owes Dallas county $69,702.28 in excess fees and unauthorized expenses of office for the years 1927 to 1931 inclusive.

Of this amount Sheriff Hal Hood, the incumbent, was alleged to owe $35,571.93. The remainder, $34,130.35, was charged against the late Sheriff Allen Seale and his widow-successor, Mrs. Lulu Seale.

The sums due Dallas county for the five-year period were listed as follows: Allen Seale, $15,508.59 for 1927; Allen Seale and Lulu Seale, $18,621.71 for 1928; Hal Hood, $12,983.33 for 1929; $16,505.70 for 1930; and $6,082.95 for 1931.

District Attorney William McCraw, acting upon authority of the commissioners' court, has filed suits to recover for the county the sums shown due from the Seale estate for 1927 and from Sheriff Hood for 1930.

McCraw said amended petitions would be filed immediately to include the additional sums the auditors say are due the county.

INDIAN COWBOY IS SENTENCED TO LIFE IN GIRL'S MURDER

GLOBE, Ariz., March 22.—(P)—Miss Colney Seymour, White River Apache range rider, protesting he "was a real good Indian," was sentenced today to imprisonment for life for the murder of Henrietta Schmerler, Columbia University anthropology student.

Sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Albert M. Sames after John H. Dougherty, Seymour's attorney, said he would not ask for a new trial. Dougherty announced the case would be carried to the circuit court if Seymour's family and tribesmen desired it, and an appeal can be financed for the jury convicted Seymour and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment after deliberating four hours.

Miss Schmerler's body was found in a ravine on the White River Apache Reservation last July 24. Seymour was convicted of having killed her July 18 while escorting her to a dance at Canyon Dey, near Fort Apache. The girl had been on the reservation a month, sent there by Columbia University to study Indian arts and customs.

GLOBE, Ariz., March 22.—(P)—Mac Seymour, young Apache cowboy, faces life imprisonment for the murder of Miss Henrietta Schmerler, 23, Columbia University research student. Federal court attaches said his conviction by a jury last night virtually means a death sentence. All Apache Indians ever sent to prison in Arizona, except one, have died after less than seven years behind the walls.

They said grief over the loss of companionship of the tribesmen and freedom of the open country was responsible. Seymour was scheduled to appear in federal court today for formal sentence. His attorneys planned to appeal.

In cross-examination, the Indian denied his direct testimony that he slew Miss Schmerler. He said he acted in self-defense after she plied him with liquor, tantalized him and then in anger, attacked him with a knife.

The student was slain the night of July 18 while on a trip with Seymour to a Fort Apache dance. Her body, which had been found, was found in a ravine on the White River reservation July 24. Physicians said the girl, who went to the reservation to obtain material for a thesis on Indian life for a master's degree from New York University, had been attacked.

The jury was out four hours and twenty minutes.

PRODUCTION FROM FORMER HUMBLE OIL WELLS INCREASED

Production on the properties in the Powell oil field, formerly owned by the Humble Oil and Refining company, but now operated by the Girard corporation of Dallas, has been increased about 100 barrels per day according to Ray W. Richmond, superintendent for the new owners.

Mr. Richmond has assumed active charge of the field and is now engaged in putting the wells in first class condition. Twenty-eight men are now working on the leases, repairing pumps and installing pump jacks, preparatory to placing a number of wells back on the pump that have been idle for several months. Production is now estimated in the field at approximately 900 barrels of crude per day.

The men are working on a full seven-day schedule. Mr. Richmond said Tuesday morning and a considerable amount of work remains to be done before the lease is in the desired condition.

Richmond Popular Here Mr. Richmond is well-known in Corsicana having been superintendent for the Humble during the boom years when the Powell field held the world's record for production; since that time he has been with the Humble in Cherokee county area, later entering the drilling contracting business, and still later serving as a proration umpire first in the Yates pool in West Texas, and later at Van in the East Texas section.

News dispatches from Houston Monday indicated that Olsen Brothers were the purchasers of the Humble holdings, but Mr. Richmond stated that the purchasers were Girard corporation and the leases would be operated by that firm. Olsen Brothers, independent oil operators, are interested in the oil business in Arkansas and in the East Texas fields.

May Secure Other Leases Mr. Richmond stated that the purchase of the Powell wells were the first moves of the corporation in the oil game. He intimated that there was a possibility that additional leases would be secured by the corporation if their experiment was successful. Equipment in several of the wells that have been abandoned permanently on the tracts will be salvaged and probably be used on some of the East Texas holdings of the corporation.

The new superintendent expressed his pleasure at being able to

FAT MEN

Mr. W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y., writes: "Have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts—results—removed 3 inches from the waistline—am 25 percent more active—mind is clear—skin eruptions have disappeared—am 46 years old—feel 20 years younger."

To lose fat surely and SAFELY take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning.

But be sure to get Kruschen—your health comes first—a bottle that will last you 4 weeks costs but a few cents at any drugstore in the world—if not satisfied money back. (adv.)

Government Has Sufficient Food To Open Stores

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(P)—As the biggest money lender, the government is holding enough food as security to open a chain of grocery stores.

For instance, 6,002,536 pounds of peanuts have been pledged as collateral; also 1,598,235 pounds of beans, 200 bushels of apples, 24,612 bushels of sweet potatoes, 616 cases of canned tomatoes, 79,896 bushels of grain, 6,691 pounds of alfalfa, 34,534 bushels of corn and 339,724 bales of cotton, all worth $10,503,000.

Farmers who obtained seed loans last year and were unable to pay brought their crops to warehouses and forwarded the warehouse receipts to the government for security until the loans are settled.

return to Corsicana and make his home here after an absence of several years. His family will join him here within a short time.

Although officials of the Girard corporation would not announce the purchase price of the former Humble holdings, it is reported in local oil circles that the deal was closed for $50,000 in cash and $50,000 in crude oil.

PROMISED ADVANCE IN CRUDE OIL WAS CAUSE OF FLURRY

STOCK MARKET PRICES, HOWEVER, LATER SET- TLED DOWN TO NORMAL

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(P)—The first upturn in mid-continent oil prices since November brought a temporary flurry of buying into the oil shares in the New York stock exchange today.

Several leading issues pushed up about 50 cents to $2 a share, but the general market soon turned heavy and the advance was left of the advance by early afternoon. Standard of New Jersey moved up as much as $1.25 a share and Standard of California got up $1.62 to $2.50 before the buying movement spent itself.

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(P)—The first advance in crude oil prices of the important mid-continent field since No. 2 caused a surge of buying of oil company securities in the stock market in the early trading today.

The Continental Oil company took the lead by announcing that on April 1 it would mark up its prices 15 cents a barrel. This will raise the price on 36 degree oil from its present 77 cent level to 92 cents a barrel.

The Continental Oil announcement was immediately reflected in the stock market with enthusiasm. Prices quickly jumped from about 50 cents to $1.50 a share for stocks of the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and California and for the independent producers like Texas Company, Sinclair, Continental, and Royal Dutch.

Negro Convicted Slaying of Stand Keeper Appeals

AUSTIN, Mar. 24.—(P)—Robert Cubit, negro, convicted in Caldwell county and given the death penalty for the slaying of G. W. Mann, keeper of a hamburger stand near Luling, appealed to the court of criminal appeals today.

Mann was stabbed to death with a pick. Louis Rogers and Willie Ray Autrey, also negroes, were indicted for the slaying with Cubit. Robbery was the motive for the killing, the state contended.

Other appeals filed: Gus Dorman, Madison county, selling liquor, one year; Mrs. Frank Evans, Madison county, possessing liquor, one year; F. Ermis, Lynn county, trespassing, liquor, two and one-half years; Jack Bowling, Surry county, assault and battery, $25 fine; R. P. Hines, Palo Pinto county, aggravated assault, $25 fine.

State Officials Decide Against Use Troops at Mines

COLUMBUS, O., March 24.—(P)—State officials have decided against immediate use of troops in handling the situation arising from recent disorders in the Hocking Valley and Sunday Creek mine strike zone.

While Governor George White has issued an ultimatum to the strikers that violence will be put down by force of arms if necessary, Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson reported to the chief executive late yesterday that he saw no reason for calling out the national guard at this time.

The adjutant general's report was made after he returned from an airplane trip to the district where some 7,000 coal miners are on strike because of a uniform wage scale put into effect by the operators February 1.

GREENVILLE, Mar. 24.—(P)—R. E. Kimbrough, 26, local chairman of the National Safety council, and Leroy Brigman, city fire marshal, were struck by an automobile while walking along a sidewalk today. The driver of the car said his steering gear jammed, causing the car to veer into the sidewalk. Kimbrough was knocked against a building and injured severely. Brigman escaped with bruises.

FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

Funeral services for Rev. Walter Griffith, aged 70 years, superintendent of the Corsicana Methodist church, who died at the Navarro Clinic Tuesday night about 7 o'clock, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Methodist church with interment in the Corsicana cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Griffith sustained fatal injuries in an automobile accident near the North Corsicana Methodist church two miles north of Corsicana Tuesday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock. He was rushed to the clinic for treatment.

According to several witnesses, it was stated the Rev. Mr. Griffith apparently stepped into the side of a passing automobile occupied by Ted Reed and J. D. Geeslin, entered the car and was struck by the rear of the car at the time of the accident.

Mr. Reed was driving the automobile. Mr. Geeslin received a slight cut on the nose from hitting the rear of the car. Mr. Griffith was taken to the clinic for treatment.

He was active in Masonic circles, and had held a number of important offices in the organization. He was a member of several churches including the Methodist church.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Caspar Wright, presiding elder of the Corsicana Methodist district, assisted by Rev. B. M. Cox, pastor of the Chatfield Methodist church, formerly pastor of the Barry church.

Mr. Griffith formerly resided here, but had lived in Barry for the past several years.

He was a candidate for the nomination as county treasurer of Navarro county in the approaching general election. He was a member of the Navarro county board of supervisors.

Hartley county reported that three loans had been completed but most of the secretaries said none of their applications had gone through.

Owen W. Sherriff of Dallas, Texas as director of the reconstruction corporation, advised the secretaries that affairs of the state office, which had been delayed by misunderstandings, had been corrected and that future applications would go through without delay.

Brison, associate professor of horticulture at A. and M.; F. R. Roberson, Extension Service horticulturist. A small registration fee will be charged those who enroll and certificates will be issued to those satisfactorily completing the work of the short course.

IN MEMORIAM
Mrs. Sam Pritchett of Ada, Okla., died of pneumonia on Feb. 20. She was sick only a few days. She leaves one son, four daughters and a host of friends to mourn for her. But our loss is heaven's gain, for we all know that little girl who had been so dear to the Father's lips, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of the Lord." Our consolation is found in a consideration of the fact that our friend and loved one is in heaven. Little's poor worn frame will never more be racked with the agonies of pain, suffering is at an end. But it will only be a little while until we can see her if we live as she did and be prepared when the time comes for us to leave this earth.

To know little to love her. She was always kind and pleasant to every one. She was a true servant of God and never tired of working for Him and His cause. She was a member of the Nazarene church and was always ready to do her part in church work. Little was as pure as a woman could be and to talk with her was food for the soul. She always left no stone unturned in her life. Her daily life was a guiding light to her family. Will say to them it is hard to give little up. But remember her great desire was to see heaven. Now she is there with her loved companion, who has been there waiting for her for several years. She often expressed the desire to see him and heaven. She is happier now. Will say to Pat, always live like mother taught you to live and you will meet mother and dad in heaven.

(Written by one who loved her)

Expression of Sympathy
Thou art gone our precious darling
Never more can thou return
Thou shalt never know a sorrow
On that bright and happy shore.

We shall meet to part no more
By and by, and by and by
Thou shalt meet to part no more
In that home beyond the sky.

For the rose that is the sweetest
And fairest,
Is the one that is killed by the frost.

The one that is sweetest and rarest,
Is Kitty whom we have lost.

STONE ESTIMATES $125,000,000 TO BE SUFFICIENT CREDIT

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(P)—An estimate that $125,000,000 would be sufficient to finance whatever export business might develop in stabilization wheat and cotton was made today by Chairman Stone of the farm board.

He noted there were encouraging reports that European importing countries soon would increase their demands for wheat and that some of this business was expected to come to North American growers.

While reiterating that the board's policy of non-dumping would be strictly adhered to, the chairman said the board would be a fool not to take advantage of a government that would increase its demands for wheat and cotton to $100,000,000 or 10,000,000 bushels on credit.

Administration leaders are seeking a $100,000,000 appropriation to finance wheat and cotton export credit. They have emphasized that non-competitive markets such as the Orient would be sought. Stone said today the board policy of not depressing markets in its sales would guide all transactions.

The chairman made it clear the board was not asking congress for money but agreed that domestic prices would be benefited by export sales. Praising benefits accruing to co-operative members, he added that 20,000 farmers had joined cotton co-operative associations in the last two or three months. He also pointed out that one of these had been receiving financial aid from the board.

AGED SMITH COUNTY COUPLE FOUND SLAIN IN HOME LAST NIGHT

BELIEVE ROBBERY MOTIVE;
WOMAN HAD BEEN ASSAULTED; NOTE FOUND

ARP, March 22.—(P)—George Brimberg, 58, well digger, and his wife, 50, were beaten to death with a flatiron and robbed of their savings last night, in their log cabin home three miles east of Arp in the East Texas oil field. The woman was criminally attacked.

J. L. Grammon, employed as a fireman by the Zion Oil company at an oil well across the road from the Brimberg shock, went to the two-room house at 10:45 p. m. and found Mrs. Brimberg's body. He called Deputy Sheriff Jim Bradford of Arp and together they discovered Brimberg's body in a ditch about sixty feet from the house. His knuckles were bruised as though he had fought with his assailant.

It was believed Brimberg was killed first and his money wallet looted, then the assailant went into the house and killed the woman. A blood covered flatiron was found near her body. She clutched a small pencil in her hand and on a magazine nearby had scrawled, "negro killed me." Her purse was lying on the floor, empty.

Officers said it was generally known the couple kept a sum of money in their home, sent them by a son believed to be in the army, stationed at San Antonio. Grammon, close friend of the old couple, said Brimberg joked about his "poverty," although he repeatedly was warned by neighbors of the danger in carrying a large amount of money.

THE "PURSE STRINGS"

WHEN it comes to a matter of buying, of spending the family household allowance, whether the purchase be one of commodities or amusements, of business or professional service---whether they be considered necessities or luxuries; it is, in the vast majority of cases, the woman who influences the final decision. For women are the logical purchasing agents of the home, the guardians of household budgets and the custodians of the "Purse Strings" in the average family.

YOUR most important prospective-customers are women. Prospects waiting to be told about the values and services you have to offer. Prospects ready to become buyers in YOUR store. And clever buyers they are too, abreast of the times. They KNOW what, when and where to buy most advantageously, because they rely on the information gained from consistently reading the advertising in this newspaper, to guide them in their buying.

YOU can most economically reach these buyers with the story of your store through this same medium. For YOUR advertising messages in the Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light are placed in the same hands that control the operation of the communities' "Purse Strings."

Cultivating the Body

There has never been a time, says Miss Forbes, when women went in so thoroughly for keeping, or acquiring, a healthy, beautiful body. She has some hints on how to do this today.

There is one marvelous thing to be said for the modern woman—she is taking a greater interest in her physical beauty than ever before. Once it was enough to put stuff on her face. Now she wants her beauty to be quite genuine, to go all the way through. So she goes in for physical culture, and for the various kinds of baths that keep her in proper trim. These days, it is hard to find a woman who doesn't know how to suffer so from indigestion—it is a national weakness. I like our plain foods and our insistence on salads and fresh fruit. We should have the ideal diet for we do not go in for starch, as the English do, nor for rich cooking, like the French, nor heavy combinations, like the Central European nations. Yet—beastly resorts at home and abroad are overcrowded with Americans trying to get rid of liver troubles, kidney, stomach and colon ailments—all due to improper eating.

Some methods of eliminating acids from the system, and reducing by profuse perspiration, begin by coating the patient with a sort of wax. You are then wrapped up in paper, so you feel like a parcel, and then in blankets. And when the wax is removed the most profuse perspiration follows, taking all acids from the skin. Massage follows—this is wonderful for local reduction, by the way. And there are the lovely cabinets that you can lie in, as well as those you sit in with hot lamps that make you perspire away flesh as well as physical acids and poisons. These, and massage, will take care of special places, if you need local relief.

But, chiefly, they rid the system of poisons, they prevent rheumatism, they relieve the various internal organs of work, they give you a clear skin, and bright eyes, and a feeling of well being. Those who can't afford such baths can use several hot water bottles and some blankets and approximate the treatment at home.

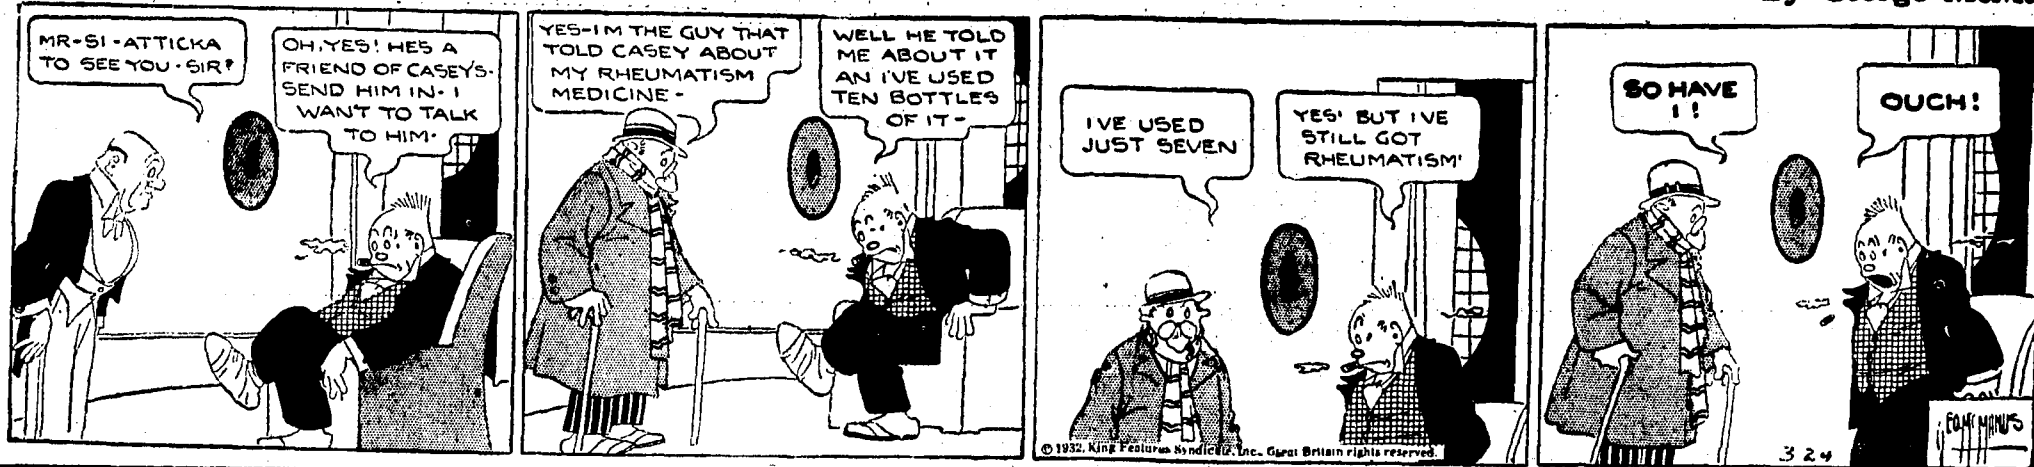

Miss J. K. L.—A woman past 50 years of age, height five feet, seven inches, would not be considered much overweight at 155 pounds, especially as she has a heavy frame. An exercise for reducing a full abdomen is as follows: Lie flat on your back on the floor and rise to a sitting position without using the arms in assisting you. At first it may be necessary to place the toes under a piece of furniture, so there will be some help in rising, but the real exercise will come when lifting is done entirely by the abdominal muscles.

Rainwater, and Jimmie Andrews; 220-yard low hurdles, W. Green, A. Jackson, and C. Norris; 220-yard dash, Wilson, E. Kellum, and W. Bowlin; 400-yard dash, E. Kellum, M. Westbrooks, and M. Ashworth; 12 as forward on the cage team last year and lettered as guard this year. He is trying for a place on the baseball club at second base this spring.

Red Crab of Austin are to the effect that Price was the best passer and floorman on the Longhorn team this year, and was prominently mentioned on the coaches' 1932 team of all-conference selection.

Price will lead a team built around seven returning lettermen in 1933.

Ed was perhaps the best all-around athlete ever produced at Corsicana high school, being a football, basketball, baseball and track letterman, was an end in high school and was one of the main cogs in the 1928 club that defeated Waco for the first time. He played on some of the cage teams coached by O. P. Doughton, but were serious contenders for the state schoolboy title.

SENATE PLEDGED TO DRASTIC ECONOMIC PLAN OF GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—The senate now is pledged to the most drastic plan yet advanced for federal economy—a 10 per cent cut in all operating expenses of the government.

By a vote of more than 2 to 1 the senate yesterday sent the $124,000,000 budget, justice, commerce and labor department, back to committee for a 10 per cent cut.

Chairman Jones of the appropriations committee, who has opposed the move, took the view that it is a mandate to make similar cuts in the rest of the supply bills.

Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.), sponsor of the move, predicted it would result in a saving to the government of at least $250,000,000 and probably more.

Appropriations for interest on the public debt or payments to war veterans, which together will amount to more than $1,000,000,000, alone are to be exempted. The McKellar motion was adopted by a vote of 50 to 29, with party lines shattered.

CANDIDATES MUST FILE FOR SPECIFIC PLACES IN PRIMARY

TEXAS SUPREME COURT REFUSES MANDAMUS TO WOMAN CANDIDATE

AUSTIN, March 23.—(P)—The Supreme Court today refused permission to Mrs. Ida M. Darden of Fort Worth to file a petition to mandamus the State Democratic executive committee to place her name on the primary ballots without reference to place as a candidate for an at-large seat in the national congress.

The court sustains the action of the party managers to require the large field of candidates for the three congressional places to designate places on the ballot.

Darden contended that the party was without authority in law to group the candidates in places to be number 1, 2 and 3.

She argued that all candidates should appear in one group, and that the highest number of votes to be the party nominees.

The committee hit upon the plan of having candidates to file in places to be number 1, 2 and 3, nominations and adopted that procedure, unless a candidate received a majority of the votes for candidates in his group, he could not be on the primary with the runner-up aspirant in his group.

The court refused the application without written opinion or comment of any kind.

Darden is approximately thirty years of age and is a native of Texas. She is a member of the legislative committee to redistrict the state, altering the boundary lines of the congressional districts, and the number from 18 to 20 to make room for three additional representatives given Texas under reapportionment of the House membership based on the 1920 federal census.

Woman Undecided As to Next Step

HOUSTON, March 23.—(P)—Mrs. Ida M. Darden, who failed today before the state supreme court at Austin in her first effort to get by litigation a proper manner in which candidates for congress at large from Texas should be listed on the democratic ballot, was undecided what course to take.

Darden, herself a congresswoman, was denied permission to file mandamus action against the state democratic executive committee to compel it to place her name on the ballot as a "free-fall" and not as a designated place.

She have not conferred with any counsel as to the full meaning of the court's action, and I also have not been advised as yet as to the advisability, or possibility, of any further court action in the matter," she said.

Incidentally, however, I would like to say that I am willing to run in any manner the executive committee requires. The suit was brought with the full knowledge and approval of the committee members, and the matter cleared up. The action, of course, was entirely friendly in nature, and was for the sole purpose of attempting to obtain a clear statement from the courts as to the proper manner of conducting the race."

MILLIONS MASS IN EASTER SUNRISE DEMONSTRATIONS

Significant New Observance That Has Sprung Into Nation-Wide Popularity --- Messiahs, True and False, And How Tested --- Power-For New Needs.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

There have been many messiahs. In Palestine at the present time there is a man who claims to be the messiah. Before the time of Jesus there were false messiahs. One of the most spectacular figures that has since appeared in the role of messiah lived in Smyrna, three hundred years ago. A recent book, "The Messiah of Islam," tells the remarkable story of this Sabbatai Zevi, who stirred the Jewish communities of the whole world, and won scores of thousands of followers. The Droumeh of Salonica are his disciples to this day.

Sabbatai's great test came when he was taken to the court of the Turkish sultan at Adrianople and given the choice of recanting and becoming a Moslem, or being put to death. With scornful defiance this "Messiah" repudiated his professions and donned a Moslem turban. He failed at the final test.

Tallyrand, the famous Frenchman, stressed the significance of the death ordeal in his memorable reply to the philosopher who had formulated a new and "perfect" religion, to which nobody gave any thought. He said: "The advice Tallyrand, who replied in substance, 'If you will renounce all worldly goods and comforts, and, like Jesus, give yourself to works of mercy and to miracles, at last letting yourself be crucified, and then rising alive from the grave, the world will listen to you.'"

Those Easter Sunrise Services. Thus the clever old Frenchman indicated the place to which the religion played in the power of Christianity. There is no messiahship or race redemption without the cross and the empty tomb. The proof of Christ's claims was given on Calvary's hill and in Joseph's garden. Jesus died for men's sins, and rose for their redemption. Without an Easter, there would be no Christian Church today.

People as a whole do not understand the Easter. But even the ones catch the point of Easter. That is why scores of thousands gather at sunrise on Florida beaches, and other scores of thousands on western mountain-sides, to greet the dawn of Resurrection morning. Thus they testify, en masse, to the Easter hope which lights a candle in every darkened death chamber and in every life.

There is no aggregate of millions of persons will leave their beds at unwatched hours of darkness this Easter day, and with no little discomfort, travel miles before daybreak, in order that they may welcome with a song this anniversary of Christ's resurrection. There is more faith in the world than the theologians perceive. And it centers in the person and the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The great Motive For Our Time. This year, Easter finds the whole world plunged in the darkness of deep distress, human want and grief, and with the shadow of war clouds hanging low on the horizon. Discouraged and bewildered hearts everywhere await some word of hope. Whence is it to come? Who will deliver our times? Where is the leader for whom all men cry aloud?

Only Easter holds the answer. There is no motive power outside of the cross and empty grave of Christ, great enough to change humanity in a new hope and purpose of brotherhood and holy living. For the ill that beset us today we need some stupendous and well-nigh omnipotent remedy, surcharged with all the love and power of God. Easter offers just that. Only the risen Christ can raise the bowed hearts of men. Ah! that we might, this year, catch a glimpse of the greatness and goodness of glory of the transforming Resurrection truth! Christ lives; and because He lives, we shall live also, in the same power.

The Flight of The Professors. Nowhere else than in the truth of a personal God, a personal Christ, a personal resurrection, a personal heaven, is there succor for man's deepest need in days like these. Material things have failed. All the foundations upon which a pleasure-crazed world built its structures have sagged and shaken. Nothing seems sure today. Rich and poor have fallen tragic victims to misplaced confidence in various kinds of "securities." But there has been no collapse of spiritual verities: the soul's securities are more secure than ever.

One of the "liberal" religious weeklies is conducting a debate by three learned philosophers upon the subject of the existence and nature of God. A reading of the first instalments makes clear one outstanding fact: Philosophy's fine-spun definitions, in the incoherent language of the schoolmen, has not the slightest value for plain men and women. The utmost that the leader of this group can offer is this laborious definition of a Deity: "God is that interaction between individuals, groups and ages which generates and promotes the greatest possible mutuality of good."

dozen appearances were not a fond delusion of hope. Reluctant witnesses had to admit the unanticipated facts. The resurrection was a surprise to those to whom it meant the most.

Pen is tempted to stray into a musing upon the glad surprises of God. "If it were not so, I would have told you"—the glories of the new life are to come as unexpected joys. After this earthly struggle—and during it—comes blessings and boons beyond our most daring dreams. Wrapped up in truth of the Resurrection is more happiness than hope could ever picture. "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him."

SELF DEFENSE IS PUT FORWARD FOR UPTON SHERIFF

SONORA, March 24.—(P)—The defense of Sheriff W. C. Fowler of Upton county, charged with murder after the fatal shooting of Graham Barnett, was based today on testimony that his life was endangered.

Barnett, a former Texas ranger, and known throughout the border country as a deadly shot, was killed by bullets from a sub-machine gun at Rankin last December.

After the state had completed direct testimony at the sheriff's trial here yesterday, the defense put Fred Center, police chief at McCamey, on the stand. Center testified Barnett said a few nights prior to the killing that if Fowler did not pay him money he would kill him and throw his body in the Pecos. Center said further he had communicated the threat to Fowler.

Testimony that Barnett's pistol was found in his belt, loaded and cocked, was given by B. M. Northcutt, a justice of the peace. Other witnesses said Barnett's hand was moving toward his pistol when he dropped, fatally wounded.

The state's star witness, Tony Hess, with Barnett at the time of the shooting, said the sheriff drove up to a filling station where Barnett's automobile was being serviced, motioned him aside, said "There's the x x I'm looking for" and began shooting with a sub-machine gun.

Cross examined, Hess was not certain the sheriff had not said, "There's the x x that's looking for me."
